

Advance for Nurses
Serving RNs in New England

June 21, 2004
Volume 4, No 14

Nurse Radio Venture Launches on the Web

The New England School of Whole Health Education, Wellesley, MA in collaboration with several local and national healthcare and media organizations, recently announced the launch of Nurseradio.org, the first nurse-focused radio show and non-profit organization dedicated to celebrating the global contributions of nurses in patient care and providing a voice for today's nurses.

Nurseradio.org features inspiring, insightful and moving interviews with prominent nurse leaders and healers.